BUSCH CHARGES 'U. S. BIGGEST BOOTLEGGER IN WORLD'; LASKER SAYS THE SALE OF LIQUOR ON SHIPS LEGAL

ST. LOUIS, MO., June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Charging the United States is "incomparably the biggest bootlegger in the world," a letter written by August A. Busch, president of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., while en route to Europe aboard the steamship George Washington, and which has been forwarded to President Harding, was made public here today, together with an accompanying letter by Adolphus Busch III, his son.

A third letter by Anheuser-Busch, Inc., addressed to members of congress, requests an investigation of the enforcement department of the government in relation to the prohibition act.

The letter of August A. Busch, addressed to his associates, says in part:

"Wettest On The Ocean"

"We are now approaching the coast of France. As this vessel is operated by the United States shipping board, I was amazed to learn that the shipping board vessels are the 'wettest on the ocean'."

"I learn that passage on these ships has been sold with a positive money back guarantee that the bars for the sale of intoxicating liquors will be thrown wide open as soon as they pass outside the three mile coast line."

"This makes the United States incomparably the biggest bootlegger in the world."

Up To President

"There are two reasons which I believe should impel us to bring this information to the attention of the president: the chief executive is charged with the duty of defending the constitution and taking care that the laws are faithfully executed and should be informed of this fact."

ST. LOUIS, MO., June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Denial that the late Adolphus Busch "was possibly the Kaiser's closest friend in America," as charged by Chairman Lasker of the shipping board, was made at the offices of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., today, with the announcement that a second letter was in preparation to the shipping board on the subject of liquor sales on shipping board vessels and answering

Mr. Lasker's charges of the Busch connections with Germany.

The letter will state that the Anheuser-Busch corporation reserves the right "to protest when the United States government buys German beer to sell on its ships, and will not let American beer be made," the announcement said.

The announcement declared that "if the government decides to make an investigation of this matter, we will establish by a reliable witness that Mr. Lasker has said that he went to President Harding with this whole matter and told him that the sale of liquor on the shipping board ships would help to solve the board's financial problems and that he said that President Harding replied to him, 'Mr. Lasker you are chairman of the shipping board; you know what to do.'"

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—The shipping board holds that "neither the Volstead act nor the eighteenth amendment apply to American ships outside the three mile limit." Chairman Lasker declared today in a letter to Adolphus Busch III, vice president of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Company, of St. Louis, confirming reports that alcoholic drinks were being served on American ships at sea. Mr. Lasker asserted that the shipping board had approved this custom "both from the standpoint of legal right and from the standpoint of the life and security of our national merchant marine."

The shipping board has permitted and will continue to permit the serving of liquor on its ships," he continued, "so long as foreign flag ships are allowed to enter and depart from our shores exercising that privilege."

Mr. Lasker's letter was in reply to a communication addressed by Mr. Busch to President Harding with reference to alcoholic drinks being regularly served on shipping board vessels at sea. The matter had been referred to him, the shipping board chairman explained, since "the president is unacquainted with the subject you cover."

Opinion Not Soundly Based

While it was true, Mr. Lasker said, that an assistant attorney general "in the prior administration" had held that the prohibition laws were effective on American shipping wherever operated, the present counsel of the shipping board, his two assistants and the chairman himself were convinced that such an opinion was not soundly based and had approved the inclusion of wine lists as regular equipment of boats operated

300 PERISH IN FLOOD IN SALVADOR

SAN SALVADOR, REPUBLIC OF SALVADOR, June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Three hundred persons are known to have been drowned and many persons are missing following an abnormal rise in the Aceluato and Arenal rivers, which overflowed their banks and joined together in one stream, inundating the Candelaria district of this city. Several houses were swept away by the raging torrent.

The bodies of three hundred men, women and children already have been found. The flood was caused by a two days' torrential rainfall.

The government has sent a relief expedition here to succor people in distress.

Harding To Speak At Memorial Dedication

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Leaving for Baltimore early in the day by automobile, President Harding was on the program to deliver the principal address at the dedication of the memorial to Francis Scott Key, of the "Star Spangled Banner," which has been erected by authority of congress on the historical site of Fort McHenry. Elaborate ceremonies had been arranged for the occasion, as the center of the nation's flag day celebration by an advisory committee appointed by the secretary of war, and headed by former Mayor James H. Freelon, of Baltimore.

Features of the dedication program, in which descendants of the author of the national anthem were invited to take part, included a pageant parade, with the president participating en route and the singing of the song written in the early morning of September 13, 1814, as the British fleet attempted to close on Fort McHenry, by a great choir of school children. Other speakers for the occasion were Assistant Secretary Vainwright, presenting the memorial on behalf of the war department, and Mayor William F. Broening, of Baltimore.

Representing "The Spirit of Music" in a colossal statue executed in bronze by Charles Henry Niehaus, the memorial rises to a height of nearly 43 feet, including the richly ornamented cylindrical pedestal, and is located about 300 yards from the entrance to Fort McHenry.

Mob Plans To Close Mines

TERRE HAUTE, IND., June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—A crowd estimated at 400 persons left here today in automobiles after announcing their intention of closing every coal mine in operation between Terre Haute and Brazil, ten miles east of here. The first stop made by the party was at the Jones mine near Staunton, Ind., where two trucks loaded with coal were seized and the contents dumped into the road, according to reports received here.

Boy Is Hanged as Chum's Slayer; Tavern Keeper Then Confesses

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
AFTER many years in the Ohio penitentiary, a Toledo man was released recently—an innocent victim of the law! He had never committed the crime for which he had been convicted. Have there been other guiltless persons in this country who have suffered a like fate—or worse?

ONE of the earliest instances of such irretrievable miscarriage of justice was recorded in Louisiana. A young man named Boynton was stopping with a friend at a tavern on the Mississippi. Chums for years, they had worked, played and lived together. Sometimes they quarreled. But it was always a friendly tiff which was soon forgotten.

One day the friend was found murdered in a rice field. By his side were Boynton's pistols.

The authorities rushed to the boys' room. Boynton was asleep.

Without awakening him they searched around. In his hat they found a slip of paper which had been seen in his friend's hand a short time before.

Protests Innocence

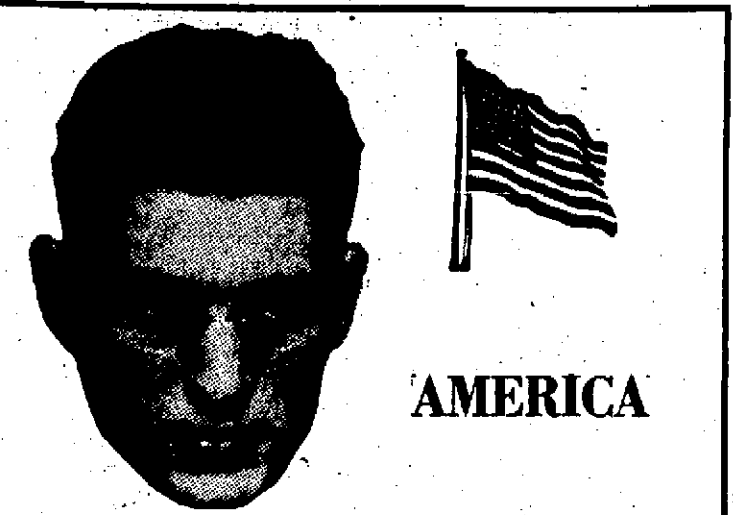

The boy jumped up with a start. Before he had time to collect his thoughts, he was placed under arrest—

Charged with murder!

It was like a nightmare. Not only had he lost his best friend but he was in danger of losing his own life too.

At the trial witnesses told of having seen the two boys near the rice field a short time before the murder. Boynton was convicted.

In the very face of death he kept

The glow of adventure was in their eyes and in their hearts the glory of hope.

And out of the bounty of earth and the labor of men, out of the longing of hearts and the prayer of souls, out of the memory of ages and hopes of the world, God fashioned a nation in love, blessed it with a purpose sublime—and called it on protesting his innocence. But no one believed him.

Too Late

As he mounted the gallows, he broke from his executioners, jumped into the crowd shrieking that the law was about to commit murder.

He was dragged back—and the execution was finished.

Several months later the keeper of the inn at which the boys had stopped became ill. On his death-bed he confessed.

It was he—and not Boynton—who had committed the murder.

He did not like the boys. So he took Boynton's pistols from under his pillow, killed his friend in the rice field, found the slip of paper in the dead boy's pocket, and planted it in his friend's hat.

MOB FOILED BY TEAR GAS; SLAYER BEHIND BARS

JACKSON, MICH., June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Use of tear gas to repel the advances of more than a thousand angry citizens of Jackson, who sought to take George Straub, confessed slayer of Miss Alice Mallett, from the custody of the sheriff, is responsible for Straub's safety in an unnamed Michigan city today. The prisoner, disguised as a city fireman, marched through the ranks of the crowd that sought his life last night and was spirited out of Jackson several hours before it was learned he had left the jail.

Early today the city was quiet with several units of national guardsmen, police reserves and state police officers assisting the local authorities in guarding against any recurrence of disorder.

Only the officials know the whereabouts of the prisoner and efforts of leaders of last night's attempt at lynching were abandoned this morning after they failed to locate Straub in nearby cities.

In the crowd that stormed the county jail were more than 100 women. One of the leaders of the movement was an aged, white-haired woman, who first pleaded with officers to deliver the prisoner, then demanded it, and finally was at the head of several rushes of the crowd toward the jail doors.

Each time the situation grew threatening, officers resorted to the use of gas bombs, which scattered the crowds.

Announcement of Straub's confession came as citizens were beginning to chafe at delay in running down the slayer. The confession was made Monday night, but not announced until 24 hours later, the officials in the meantime carefully checking up the prisoner's story and formally charging him with murder.

A Toast To The Flag

By John A. Daly

HERE'S to the Red of it—
There's not a thread of it,
No, not a shred of it
In all the spread of it

From foot to head
But heroes bled for it,
Faced steel and lead for it,
Precious blood shed for it,
Bathing it Red.

HERE'S to the White of it—
Thrilled by the sight of it
Who knows the right of it,
But feels the might of it

Through day and night;
Womanhood's care for it
Made manhood dare for it;
Purity's pray'r for it Keeps it so White.

HERE'S to the Blue of it—
Heavenly view of it,
Star-Spangled hue of it
Honesty's due of it

Constant and true.
Here's to the whole of it,
Stars, Stripes and Pole of it,
Red, White and Blue.

Miners Are Ready To Meet The Operators

CINCINNATI, O., June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—The miners are ready to meet the operators on the central competitive field on a substantial tonnage basis, with a view to settling the nation-wide strike, according to William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America. It was explained, however, that it would be necessary for operators "joining in the conference to control enough coal production to warrant making any wage agreement they might reach with the miners a basis for pay throughout the central competitive field which is the basic scale for all soft coal fields, operating union mines."

Mr. Green said yesterday he had knowledge of a movement among certain coal operators of the central competitive field to bring operators and miners together in conference.

Not having been informed what operators were to take part in the proposed conference, Mr. Green said, he could not say whether they would represent sufficient tonnage to negotiate a pay basis.

Should the plan materialize, he said, it would be impossible to begin the conferences before next week.

Mr. Green's statement was made upon receipt of a report from Cleveland quoting T. N. Maher, president of the Maher Collieries Co., as saying conferences of operators were going on throughout the country in an effort to end the strike.

Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners, and Mr. Green had a long conference yesterday, the purport of which was not announced.

CHRISTIANS
MASSACRED

LONDON, June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Charges that 1,300 Christian women and children were taken by the Turks from Samson on the Black Sea to the interior and massacred near Kavak two weeks ago are contained in a telegram received by the Greek defense committee here from the Greek patriarch of Constantinople.

Benigno
Pays Penalty Protesting
His Guilt

COLUMBUS, O., June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—A spirit of calmness, which he maintained throughout the last issue of his life, was characteristic of the passing of Benigno, 26, Cleveland Italian, and father of two children, electrocuted at the Ohio penitentiary early today for his part in the Sly-Farmer payroll robbery and subsequent double murder at Cleveland in December, 1920.

Benigno, the third member of the bandit gang to be executed was pronounced dead at 12:08 a. m., central standard time, by Prison Physician W. A. Whitman. One application of the current for the duration of a minute was sufficient. With apparent bravado, the Cleveland murderer entered the death chamber and without uttering a word stalked to the chair, sat down and awaited his end.

His widow, two children and a brother Tony, of Cleveland, were with him several hours last night, leaving the institution at 9:00 o'clock.

Early in the evening Benigno, carrying his baby in her arms, with her three-year-old daughter trailing at her skirts, made an unsuccessful plea for executive clemency to W. A. Bundy, executive clerk in Governor Davis' office. She declared her husband innocent and asked for clemency in behalf of the two children.

For his last meal, Benigno asked for bread and wine. "Christ, an innocent man, went to his death, with nothing but bread and wine," he said. "That's all I want. Only a guilty man would order any other kind of a meal."

Conversing with newspaper men late yesterday, he declared, "I would not be here," were it not for Sam.

INJURIES FATAL TO KAYLOR

Injuries suffered Sunday evening when he was knocked down on Market street by a machine driven by Pearl McGraw of the East End proved fatal to Frank (Rock) Kaylor, who passed away in Mercy hospital at 7:30 this morning. He had been unconscious since the accident. A postmortem examination held this morning at the Windel morgue by Coroner J. D. Hendrickson and Dr. O. R. Micklethwait showed that the dead man suffered a fracture of the base of the skull and that broken ribs had punctured his left lung. When taken to the hospital attending physicians held out no hope for Kaylor's recovery owing to the seriousness of his condition. McGraw, who drove the machine which struck him was released on a $1,000 bond Tuesday. No specific charge has been preferred against him. Kaylor was on Front street near Market when he heard a band playing at Second and Market streets and as he neared it he was struck by the McGraw machine and hurled to the paved street. Mr. Kaylor, who was born in 1832 was a life long resident of the West End, where he was well known and where he was respected by all who knew him. In his more active days he was a steel worker, but during the latter part of his life his time was devoted to his property interests. He was a splendid, wholesome citizen and leaves many warm friends to mourn his tragic death. He spent many happy hours along the river front with his associates and he was always kind, considerate and law abiding. He leaves one brother, William of Cincinnati and one sister, Miss Lavina Kaylor of Second and Jefferson streets. Mr. Kaylor was a member of the local Red Men. His body has been moved to the home of his sister, where the funeral services will be held.

A marriage which will be of wide spread interest is that of Miss Jean H. Henry and Mr. William Henry Ruggles, which was solemnized at one o'clock this afternoon in Trinity Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. W. C. Millikan, pastor of the church, officiated, using the impressive ring service of the Methodist church. The attendants were Miss Margaret Iva Henry, attractive young sister of the bride, and Mr. Carl Hauck. The bride looked charming in a smart tailleur of dark blue tulle with harmonizing accessories. Her bridal bouquet was a corsage of pink roses. Miss Henry wore a handsome afternoon frock of dark blue tulle, black picture hat and a corsage of sweet peas. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left on a wedding trip to Cincinnati and Indianapolis, Ind. Upon their return they will take up their residence on Grant street.

Mrs. Ruggles is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henry of 801 Grimes avenue and has been one of the efficient book-keepers at the Security Bank for the past few years. Mr. Ruggles holds a responsible position in the office of the Selby Shoe Company.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Goddard of Wellston and granddaughter, Miss Marcelle Rardin, of Columbus, motored down from Wellston today for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rardin of 802 Waller street.

Mr. Hugh Woten, of Los Angeles, Calif., who has been visiting his brother, Mr. John Woten, of Grandview avenue, left today for Van Wert, Ohio, where he will visit his nephew, A. H. Woten, who has been spending the past two weeks here.

Andrew Steinhart of Grandview avenue left yesterday for Ann Arbor, Mich., to accompany home his brother, James Steinhart, who has been attending college there during the past year.

Miss Hannah Rolder of Third street will leave tomorrow for Jackson, Ohio, where she will attend the Epworth League convention tomorrow and Friday. Enroute home she will stop at Scioto Furnace to visit relatives.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Bigelow church was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. J. Russell, (Effie Walker) Fourth street and York Drive, with twenty-five members and one guest present. The devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Al Windel. The report of the secretary and treasurer was read and accepted. The corresponding secretary read a letter from China and Japan, the latter asking for Christmas needs. The president appointed a committee consisting of Mrs. J. B. Mackay, Mrs. Pearl E. Selby, Mrs. Floyd Fuller, to look after the matter. A group meeting was announced for Sciotoville on June 28 of the Foreign Missionary Societies. The program for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Muriel Duda. The book review on Africa was in charge of Mrs. Floyd Fuller. Mrs. W. L. Liston gave a reading from the Missionary Friend, and Mrs. James A. Maxwell gave a talk on Intercessory Prayer. Miss Sarah Louise Walker closed the program with a beautiful solo. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Helen Hopkins. Mr. Andrew Fuller made his sister, the late Miss Clara Fuller, a memorial member of the Society at yesterday's meeting. After the business session a social hour and refreshments were served.

Attorney and Mrs. Walter Dickey will occupy the Comins home on Gallia street during the absence of the Misses Alice and Kate Comins, who left this afternoon for a three months' trip abroad.

Mrs. Wilson Boyer and daughter, Alma, were guests of Mrs. Clem Switalski today enroute from a visit with relatives in McDermott to their home in Covington, Ky.

Willard Willing To Meet Dempsey

LOS ANGELES, June 14.—Jess Willard is willing to meet his conqueror, Jack Dempsey, in a return match for the world's heavyweight pugilistic championship, he informed a newspaper man when cornered in his home in the Hollywood district here. Willard firmly believes that Dempsey can be beaten and he is willing to try to beat him, he said.

"I would meet Dempsey if we could come to terms," Willard was quoted as saying. "Jack Kearns and I have talked over the terms of another match, but we haven't come to any definite understanding yet." Willard said he probably would go east late in the summer and enter into arrangements with Tex Rickard, the promoter, and Kearns, for a bout with Dempsey. Willard indicated that the question of gate receipts of such a match would be inconsequential to him. He said his Kansas oil property was yielding him a good income. It is generally reported here that Willard has been in training since his arrival from Kansas several weeks ago.

Stevens Recovers Stolen Whiskey, Real Red Liquor; Takes It Home Under Special Guard

On an order issued by Judge Thomas, Wednesday, Sheriff E. E. Ricker turned back to Jay S. Stevens, widely known Mt. Joy capitalist and farmer, six of the jugs of liquor which were stolen from his home on January 16, 1920, and which has since been held as evidence in the case of E. H. Norman and William Curley, who were convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for participation in the theft. Twelve five-gallon jugs containing 60 gallons of good red Kentucky bourbon were taken in the robbery but only seven of the jugs were recovered when Norman and Curley were apprehended by an officer at New Boston because the automobile in which they were transporting the liquor became stalled. The valuable cargo of liquor which was restored to Mr. Stevens was taken back to his Mt. Joy home today in his large touring car under special guard.

BOTH LEGS ARE CRUSHED OFF

George Dickerson, colored, aged 25 was so badly injured while at work in the Whitaker-Glessner plant Wednesday that he may die. Both legs were crushed off below the knee and he was in a serious condition when taken to Schirrmann hospital.

Dickerson and another colored laborer were unloading cinder from a car with a hopper bottom. When Dickerson climbed under the car to see why the cinder did not dump faster an engine bumped the car and he was caught beneath the wheels despite the fact that the car moved only about six feet. Dickerson was placed in Richards' ambulance and rushed to Schirrmann hospital. There it was stated his condition is extremely serious.

Plan To Settle Question Whether Volstead Act Follows The Flag

WASHINGTON, June 14.—An amendment that he would offer an amendment to the ship subsidy bill providing that no part of the federal appropriation should be allowed steamship lines on which liquor was sold without special authority of congress was made today by a western Republican member of the house, who declined to permit the use of his name at this time. Reports were current around the house that a number of similar amendments were being prepared by prohibition leaders, who agreed that if put to a vote it would be passed by the same majority recorded heretofore on all straight wet and dry issues, thus settling, until a possible decision by the supreme court, the whole question whether the Volstead act followed the flag.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The administration ship subsidy bill, re-drafted by the house merchant marine committee, was introduced today by Chairman Green, of the committee. Social events, automobile rides and races at the San Carlos speedway, in the afternoon, motor boat races, and a yacht regatta were on today's entertainment program, with a repetition of yesterday's parade as the main event of the evening.

CHEYENNE, WYO., June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Fred Brown, sought by authorities of Omaha, Neb., for shaking two women in an isolated cabin and holding them prisoner for two nights, doubled back into Nebraska from Wyoming last night and held up and disarmed the night marshal and deputy sheriff of Dix, 18 miles east of Kimball, according to word received here today.

Shriners To Elect

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Election of imperial officers was the main business for which the imperial council of the Order of the Mystical Shrine assembled today with the advancement of James McChesley, of Aloha Temple, to the head of the organization as a settled matter by virtue of long standing custom. All other imperial officers, by the same custom, moved up one notch this year, the only other contest being for the lowest position, grand outer guard. For this Ernest Mills, of Des Moines, Iowa, and John Fouche, of Chattanooga, Tenn., were the principal candidates.

Social events, automobile rides and races at the San Carlos speedway, in the afternoon, motor boat races, and a yacht regatta were on today's entertainment program, with a repetition of yesterday's parade as the main event of the evening.

ONE BLOW STRUCK; ARRESTS FOLLOW

H. B. Bryant, 30, of 1012 Ninth street, and Dewey Montgomery, 30, of 3108 Fourth street, were before Judge McCall in Municipal court, Wednesday, to meet disorderly conduct charges which grew out of a fight which they staged at Fourth and Chillicothe streets earlier in the day when Bryant took Montgomery to task for associating with Mrs. Bryant. The hearing showed there was not much of a fight as only one blow was struck when Bryant knocked his opponent down and the latter on gaining his feet ran away. The disturbance attracted the police and both were taken into custody. On the stand Montgomery admitted that he had walked on the street with Mrs. Bryant but disclaimed all knowledge that she was married.

After hearing from both sides the court continued the cases pending further developments after warning both defendants against further trouble and on exclaiming a promise from Montgomery to stay away from the woman in the case.

TO DEAL ONLY

WITH OWN MEN

CHICAGO, June 13 (By the Associated Press)—Illinois coal operators announced definitely today that they would deal only with their own men in any future wage conferences, declaring the time had passed when a joint conference with operators in other states is desirable. The announcement constituted a refusal of the move of certain eastern operators to open joint negotiations looking toward an end of the mine strike.

"There is no warrant for the assumption of Ohio operators that Illinois would at this time participate in a joint conference other states to consider the present mine labor situation," Dr. J. F. Homold, secretary of the Illinois Coal Operators, today.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Anna Maiter Funeral services for the late Mrs. Anna Maiter of 622 Fifth street, who died so suddenly in Schirrmann hospital, were conducted from the home Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

The last rites of this estimable woman were impressively conducted by Rev. E. A. Powell, pastor of All Saints' church. He had known Mrs. Maiter as the kind and helpful neighbor that she was for eleven years and his pretty tribute was as deserving as it was inspiring. Rev. Powell dwelt on the cheerful traits of the deceased and the love she had for children, music and flowers.

"Nearer My God To Thee," and "Rock of Ages," favorite hymns of Mrs. Maiter, were feelingly sung by the First Evangelical quartette, composed of Messrs. John Wilhelm, Henry Hense, Mrs. William H. Torges and Miss Margaret Torges. The accompanist was Mrs. Samuel Rice. There was a wealth of beautiful floral tributes which mutually testified to the esteem in which this good woman was held in a community where she had resided for 32 years. The interment was in Greenlawn cemetery. The pallbearers were R. E. Lewis, Karl Zoellner, Albert Revare, Orin B. Oakes, Will P. Minego and A. H. Richardson.

Mr. Frick Resigns As C. Of C. Head

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, Mr. Adam Frick tendered his resignation as president of the organization.
Mr. Frick stated that he was impelled to take that action because he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for state representative from this county, and he did not feel that it was consistent for an aspirant for political preferment to remain at the head of a non-partisan organization, such as the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Frick's resignation was received with much regret by the board as it will be by the membership in general, as he has demonstrated that he was the right man for the place. No action has as yet been taken toward choosing his successor.

NEGRO DIES IN POLICE PATROL

Sam Lee, 21, negro, died at an early hour Wednesday morning as he was being removed from the home of Sue Saussy, 1139 Tenth street, to the police headquarters in the police patrol. The man who arrived in the city about a month ago, claimed to be from Indiana, but little was known of him here. Shortly after midnight he showed symptoms of insanity and he was picked up by the police on June 6, but as he was a non-resident of the state the probate court refused to act in the case and he was released.

The man was taken in by the Saussy family a week ago but they became alarmed over his strange actions and notified the police. Officers Cox and Powers responded and it was while they were transporting him to the station that he expired. Coroner Hendrickson was summoned, but a hasty examination disclosed that the man had succumbed to natural causes no inquest was held. It was learned that Lee had been suffering from typhoid fever. The body was turned over to Undertaker Daehler and will be buried in Potter's field unless claimed by relatives.

Rev. Webb At First Christian Tonight

Judging from the interest manifested in the address to be delivered at the First Christian church this evening by Rev. Henry Webb, pastor of the Corinthian, Ky., First Christian church, a large crowd will be in attendance, not only from Portsmouth and Sciotoville and New Boston as well. A pressing invitation has been extended to all disciple churches in the county to send delegations, consisting of the pastors, officials and Bible school officers to hear what Rev. Webb has to say. He is coming here under the auspices of the United Christian Missionary Society and his address will touch with interesting facts—things the Disciples should know and take to heart. Rev.

Webb, who is a product of the First Christian church of this place, is a son of D. J. Webb, and is regarded as one of the strongest and most earnest ministers in the entire brotherhood. He is not only eloquent, but forceful and never tiresome. He arrived in Portsmouth Tuesday evening and in company with the pastor, Rev.
Gerald Childers, spent practically all of Wednesday in making calls upon the membership.

Rev. Webb always finds a hearty welcome on his visits back to his home town, and a pleasant greeting from the entire citizenship who have watched his career with considerable pride.

The services this evening will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Special music and song will feature the opening exercises. While the meeting is mainly for the membership of the Disciple churches, nevertheless the general public is most cordially invited.

L. F. Lemon And Family Were In Cyclone

L. F. Lemon and family, of 1658 Twelfth street, have returned from Buckeye Lake, where they were visiting, when a cyclone, which struck and wrought so much havoc at the famous summer resort Sunday.
They drove up for the day and were in the Mauger hotel building when the storm broke and they were injured.

Mr. Lemon says that the cyclone was about three hundred feet in width at the widest swath, but did not travel in a straight line, jumping from here to there in its mad swirl. Soon as the storm subsided Mr. Lemon stated a search of the wreckage was started and it was found that three persons had been killed and about forty buildings wrecked besides all the amusement features, including the coaster.

Park Commission Plans For Future

A busy session of the City Park
Commission was held in the City Council Chamber last night with Chairman Mark Seby, George Goodman, Raymond York and Secretary Leo Kricker present.
The first business taken up was the making of the semi-annual budget for the period from July 1 to January 1, which totals $2,000. The budget will be submitted to the finance committee of the city council which will meet at the city auditor's office at 7 o'clock tonight.

The matter of trimming trees in the various parks of the city was taken up and after much discussion, it was decided to call on the State Forestry Department to send an expert to this city to advise on the removal of certain trees and the entire and treatment of others. A census had been taken of the trees in the parks. It being found that there are 187 in Tracy, 114 in York and 111 in Children's or Mount Park. The secretary was directed to communicate with the Forestry Department.

The matter of permitting the use of Children's Home or Mount Park for other than community purposes was taken up and after discussion of some length it was decided that as much as possible the park should be kept for the use of the people and that it was best not to grant its use to individuals, organizations, lodges or denominations, thus perpetuating the purposes to which it was dedicated. This will be the rule followed in the future.

The question of lighting the park came up and Mr. York was directed to figure on same.
It was announced that the Women's City Clubs are to ask the commission for permission to renovate and remodel the old Children's Home building and make of it a community center for the various organizations in this work. The plan includes a large assembly hall and rooms for various organizations. The matter will be placed before the Park Commission at its next meeting. There is another plan for music which will be announced later.

The commission entered a request that the city engineer provide the commission with maps of York, Tracy Magnolia and Bannan parks.

The matter of establishing a tennis court and play ground at Bannan park was taken up as per request and action will be taken at a future meeting.

The commission ordered a shed built at York park for the protection of the park equipment.

The commission went over the blue print of the Children's Home or Mount Park and pointed out the various improvements to be made in the future of that fine ground for the convenience of the public, in the way of memorials, water fountains, rest seats, stands, etc., which will make of it one of the most beautiful spots in southern Ohio.

Protest Is Filed Against A. P. Sandles Governor Candidate

COLUMBUS, O., June 14.—Formal protest against the candidacy of A. P.
Sandles for the Democratic nomination for governor, was filed with Secretary of State Smith by Edward J. Greely of Columbus today. Greely said he was acting on his own volition as a voter.

Smith indicated a hearing would be held on the case in a short time.
Mr. Greely's protest sets forth two reasons why Sandles' candidacy should not be allowed—that Mr. Sandles himself did not sign the petition

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—I am going with a girl whom I love very much, and every time she goes out on the street she wants me to go with her. She won't go with anyone else. What will I do about it, let her go with whom she pleases, or would you go ahead and talk to her? Dolly, I love this girl well enough to marry her if you think she would make me a good wife. Please give me your advice what to do.

LONESOME JACK.
I don't see how you can be lonesome, if your girl is right at your heels every time you turn around. If you love her well enough to marry her and there are no obstacles in the way, you might as well go ahead and marry her—but remember—if she doesn't want you out of her sight now, you will have to give a strict account of your actions after you are married. Here's hoping you will be happy, even if you are henpecked.

Dear Miss Wise—I have all but ruined a perfectly good dress with perspiration stains and I want you to tell me how to take them out.

KITTY.
Perspiration stains may be easily removed by a solution of oxalic acid and water. Use a proportion of one drop of oxalic acid to 20 drops of water. Sponge the stains carefully with this and hang the dress to dry in the air.

Dear Miss Dolly—Will you please print a recipe for rhubarb wine?

for winter use. They are nice to garnish salads and to use in making candy for Christmas.

MABEL.
Cherries and any other kind of fruit may be candied by this recipe: Have the fruit clean and perfectly dry. Make a syrup, using two cups of sugar to one of water. Stir until the sugar is dissolved; add one-half teaspoon of cream of tartar, then simmer until the syrup reaches thread or brittle stage. Dip each piece of fruit in the hot syrup, turning it in order to cover it up completely, then dry on waxed or buttered paper.

Dear Miss Wise—As you have helped so many people, I want some advice. Dolly, would you please tell me how to take sunburn off.

JULIU.
Make a paste of milk and magnesia or magnesia and glycerine and smear over your face.

Dear Dolly—If anyone wants to make cherry jelly they can make it by using three pounds of sugar to one pound of fruit.

CHERRY SEED.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please print a recipe for rhubarb wine?

MRS. X. Y. Z.
I run this recipe about two weeks ago, so I hope all who think they will need it will clip it out this time. So I won't have to print it again. Fourteen pounds of rhubarb, six lemons, one ounce ginger, one ounce tartaric acid, seven pounds lump sugar, four gallons boiling water, slice of toast, one ounce yeast, one ounce ising-glass. Shred the rhubarb, put in a large crock, add lemon sliced, ginger, tartaric acid and sugar. Pour over the water and mash well together. When lukewarm add the yeast spread on the toast. Let stand three days, strain into a cask. Add the ising-glass, cork securely for three weeks. It can then be bottled.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

They found the other side so steep it seemed to drop down to nothing.

THE Twins were hunting Mr. Peera about the Mat-in-the-Moon. He was lost.

They looked into his house, but he wasn't there.

Then they went to Smokeytown Town and asked the Towies (the little dream fairies), but they didn't know a thing.

Next they went to Smokeytown Village and asked the chimney fairies and the Sweep. But no Moon-Man.

Then they went to all the cities, the City of Ice, the City of Coral, and the City of Pearl, but nobody had seen him.

Then suddenly one old fellow in the City of Pearl remembered something.

"Tother day I was taking a walk," said he, "and I saw Mr. Peera about talking to Comet-Legs on a mountain-top. After a while I saw Comet-Legs coming back alone."

"Which mountain was it?" asked Nancy. "We'd better go up and see."

"That one yonder," said the old fellow, pointing.

Up the mountain they climbed, and when they got to the top they found the other side so steep it seemed to drop down into nothing.

Nancy peeped over. Far, far below was the earth.

"Nick," she said, "I'll bet you anything Comet-Legs pushed Mr. Peera about off the moon and he's down on the earth this minute. We'll have to go down and search for him."

Just then Wink returned from delivering a nice dream to an earth baby.

"Mr. Peera about's there," he said. "I saw him."

MARRIAGE A LA MODE
Married life in the Island of Celebes is pleasantly regulated—for the man, at least. When a man wants a new wife, he applies to the head rajah. Polygamy is the rule. A man may have as many wives as he can maintain, but he is obliged to take a separate house for each of them.

Misses Edna Hauke and Dorothy Kinsey, Messrs. F. W. Carr of Schenectady, N. Y., and Joe Horchow were dinner guests at the "Blue Bird Inn," Wheelersburg, last evening.

Mrs. Scott Boggs and Mrs. Earl Shannon of Kingston, Ohio, and Mrs. E. J. Leist of Circleville, have returned to their respective homes after a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kinsey.

Miss Marie Baum, a member of the 1922 graduating class of St. Mary's school, left this morning for a several weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Cincinnati.

About thirty members of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of Trinity church attended the meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. E. Royce, 1421, Second street. Mrs. W. W. Robinson opened the meeting with devotional exercises after which the election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. Howard Sellards.
First vice president—Mrs. Henry Amberg.

Second vice president—Mrs. Hattie Jenkins.
Third vice president—Mrs. Frank Appel.

Recording secretary—Mrs. Harry Adams.

Light refreshments were passed before adjournment. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Harry Cranston, Highland avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Delany of Galia street have as guests Mr. Carl Delany of Charlesburg, Va., and Miss Alice Combs.

BEFORE BABY COMES

Watchful Care of Health Necessary

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Marvelous Help

West Orange, N. J.—"I was very nervous and upset for six months before my baby was born. One of my friends told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it for five months now. I have a big boy who weighed almost nine pounds at birth and I do all my housework and don't feel a bit nervous or upset any more. I still take your medicine and have told all my friends what good it has done me."—Mrs. MARGARET GREGORY, 440 Valley Road, West Orange, N. J.

West New York, N. J.—"The first two months I carried my baby I was in bed almost every day with sick headaches. I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the first bottle helped me. I took seven more and I know I couldn't feel better than I did. The headaches stopped and I was able to do my own work. I have a baby girl six months old who weighs twenty pounds and is the picture of health."—Mrs. J. McCoy, 207 20th St., West New York, N. J.

Nervous and Run-Down
Biloxi, Miss.—"Just a word of praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it with wonderful results before my baby was born. I was nervous and run-down that I was a wreck of misery. I had pains in my sides and back so bad that I could not stay still or sleep at night. My husband was reading your ad. in the paper and I decided to try your Vegetable Compound. After I had taken half a bottle I felt a change and was soon as well as ever. I took it the whole time and recommend it to every woman who is suffering as I was. People said that because I was so young I would never pull through and I praise your Vegetable Compound for my good health."—Mrs. ENOCIE J. STEVENS, 880 Fayard St., Biloxi, Miss.

Chicago, Ill.—"I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all prospective mothers. I suffered from weakness and faint spells and had to lie down twice a day for an hour or so before I could go on with my work. My cousin, who lives in Wisconsin, has used your Vegetable Compound for over five years and she came to us for a visit and she recommended it to me, saying she would pay for the bottle if it did not help me. I took that bottle and got more, as I found it gave me great relief. I recommend it to my friends and sisters and am willing for you to use these facts to help others."—Mrs. I. J. KUNASKE, 1813 W. 17th St., Chicago, Illinois.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken by expectant mothers. It will assist them in keeping well and strong. This is necessary not only for their own comfort but for the future as well. It helped many others.

Impossible To Raise Lusitania, British Admiralty Men Say

LONDON, June 14—The statement called from New York that an American salvage company was going to try to raise the Lusitania has aroused keen interest here. But most of those who speak with authority about lifting ships from the bottom of the sea are sceptical as to the Lusitania ever being floated.

Sir Frederick Young is strongly of the opinion that it will never be done. He had charge of the Admiralty Salvage section during the war, and brought into port nearly 500 ships that had become war casualties. Many of them had been torpedoed and a considerable number had been sunk. No one knows more about raising sunken ships.

Sir Frederick said it is very improbable, though not absolutely impossible, that the Lusitania could be raised. The cost would be out of all proportion to her value. After lying seven years at the bottom of the sea it would cost as much to re-instate her as to build a new vessel.

Southern Ohio Coal Operators Attend A Meeting In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 14—The Pittsburgh coal producers association whose members control the majority of bituminous production in the Pittsburgh district, late today reaffirmed its attitude toward the check-off and declared in a statement that it was "willing and ready to meet its men, union or non-union in any place at any time to formulate a working scale with the check-off eliminated."

Two delegates of coal operators from Ohio, one from the Pittsburgh vein association of Cleveland and the other from the Southern Ohio coal operators, attended the meeting.

Life Term Convict, Cincinnati Slayer, Escapes From "Pen"

COLUMBUS, O., June 14—Two "trusties" at Ohio penitentiary walked away today. One of them, Theodore Polman, 40, serving life for the murder of Patrolman E. J. at Cincinnati, December 14, 1918, left the state school for the blind where he had been detailed for work for more than a year. The other, Harry Pain, of Zanesville, left his employment at Ohio State University. Pain yesterday completed a twelve year sentence for shooting to kill and today began another sentence of three years for carrying concealed weapons.

Officers for the year are, Hal B. Strong, Martins Ferry, president; Harry W. Crow, Wooster, first vice president; T. H. Parst, New Philadelphia, second vice president; John W. Joked, Cleveland, secretary and treasurer.

Helping the Student Find Himself

To prevent the groping and floundering that often follows the sudden transition from student life to the responsibilities of business life, Ohio Wesleyan has adopted a definite policy of vocational guidance.

The dean or professor with whom the student has been so closely associated during the most important years of life preparation, exerts a powerful influence in shaping the future of that student.

Consultation with deans and professors for vocational guidance is supplemented with business lectures to undergraduates by Ohio Wesleyan Alumni and other prominent business men.

Ohio Wesleyan gives studied attention to the mind, the heart, the body and the future of every student within her walls—a well balanced training that develops youths of promise into men and women of prominence.

Y. M. C. A. HOLDS JUBILEE SERVICES

The fiftieth anniversary of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. was celebrated with fitting observance last evening at the Railroad "Y" at the Terminal.

At the meeting assembled one hundred and fifty men who happened to be in off their ruts and these joined in the spirit of the evening while as many more away from home doubtless had their hearts beating in unison with those present because of the genuine cordiality, convenience and all around helpfulness that the Y service has given to them here and yonder when away from domestic comforts. The Y is the transient railroad man's home, has been aptly said, because it affords a place of sleep and rest when all other mediums have failed. Thus why such a large attendance was present last night to commemorate the half-centennial of the organization which has been so helpful to them.

The address of the evening was delivered by I. D. Rhodes, State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for Ohio with headquarters at Columbus. Mr. Rhodes spoke particularly of the history of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. of its growth and its motherly benefits to countless men. He spoke for forty minutes with devotion to the cause incorporated in every paragraph of the splendid services rendered and its ennobling purposes to which he paid tribute.

He was followed by Rev. Gerald Culbertson of the First Christian church of this city, who also eloquently portrayed the benefits of a society of the character of the Y. M. C. A. The fact that it had existed all these years and continued to grow in strength each passing year proved its benefit to mankind, he said, and made of it a useful medium of helpfulness that brought solace to the men of toil because of its restful advantages and conveniences and its complete removal from environments of a public place.

There was a break of real balmy sunshine at the meeting when a lovely basket of flowers was presented in memory of Mr. E. F. Riddout, who served so well as secretary of the "Y" for many years. This basket came from many admiring friends.

The music of the evening was a joy to all. The Trinity Sunday School choir led by Miss Alice Blake, rendered this sweet music that touched the hearts of those strange men who were in attendance. There were men there who daily live within their possession the lives of scores of people—men of determination, judgment and action, quick action that means the safety of their fellows—these joined in the anniversary service with a pulse that was ennobling, showing their true character and their devotion to the mother away from home for them as

The Hall Y is often called. The celebration was most fitting and appropriate.

A fashionable Radio Dance is held up by two men and a girl. Guy Garlick and Dick Defoe are trying to unravel the mystery. They find Ruth Walden, beautiful and wealthy, as in some way mixed in with the crooks. The "Sea Vamp" a houseboat, and "The Bachelors" a suspicious craft, are discovered. They seek to check up on them and discover the "Inner Circle." This is a fashionable resort, that thrives on the revolt against reform. Bonts and Inner Circle are equipped with the latest in wireless.

Dick and Garlick discover that a meeting is to take place in the Pink Room of the Inner Circle. They get Dick's wireless dictograph and prepare to listen in. Dick is left to listen while Garlick goes out to shadow some of Jack Curtis' pals. Garlick is followed and at the door of the Gerard house has a desperate encounter with two ruffians.

Dick's wireless dictograph was working good until some amateur interfered and then when he could no longer hear the conversation in the Pink Room he threw down the receiver and went to find Garlick, coming home just in time to prevent the second man from going in, but then two more came, then a whistle and four fled leaving Garlick and Defoe to be arrested by the revenue officers. Garlick quickly showed them who he was. They found a car and searched the Gerard house but found nothing.

Ruth has been located and taken home after an escape in which her car was wrecked. But she had not been with her mother at the club one day before she is away again with Jack Curtis, one of the Velvet Gang. They were about to take a drink of what Prof. Varlo called a "love potion" when he came in and Jack began accusing the waiter of trying to drug them.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IX

THE DIRECTION FINDER

UITS — you were up to some thing devilish — I knew it!" repeated Varlo as he faced Jack over the table at the Binnacle. "When you saw me drive up here you suddenly changed your tune. You ran to cover — to cover yourself."

"Where's Jack Curtis?" she exclaimed. "The moment of silence that followed was eloquent. 'Oh, Ruth, dear, any more trouble?'" Ruth was out of the car, eager to give her mother more confidence. "No, Mummy nothing much. Jack was a little off in the head, but Professor Varlo came along and . . ."

Mrs. Walden beamed her appreciation of Varlo's help. Varlo exchanged a keen glance with Ruth and understood that she chose to wait until there were more facts before she made an open accusation. He nodded and acquiesced. "You'll let me know the result?" Ruth asked. "You promised and with a forced light-hearted remark Ruth turned and ran up the stairs to her room to dress for dinner. Meanwhile, on the opposite porch of the Club which was otherwise deserted, Varlo, only a few moments before, had tucked her arm nervously under Garlick's and drawn him into the privacy of the glassed-in, winter solarium. "You may come, too, Dick," she nodded back to him. "There—please shut the door." She glanced at Garlick, half confidently, half fearful of him. "I've been so afraid—ever since I found out how the walls might have ears!"

Dick closed it and Garlick placed a chair for Varlo who sank into it rigidly, turning and looking up at his face as he stood with his hands still on the back of the chair. There was something scolding in her mind and Garlick was just about to make some reassuring remark that would relieve the tension and open the floodgates of her heart. Varlo, all animation, now that she had taken this step, did not wait to give him a chance. "It's about Glenn," she cried tensely, bringing her two hands together. "You know all about the Inner Circle . . . and Georges. Well, Glenn was our treasurer when we first started—is yet in a way, I suppose. Oh, it may have been all right when we started. It was fun and all that. It was nice. It was smart. But . . . one thing led to another. But . . . Guy, Oh, get him out of it all . . . get him out of it . . . clean!"

Varlo, flushed, had risen from the chair, was standing with hands extended, pleadingly before Garlick. As she finished there was a little tremble in her voice and she turned quickly to dash away a tear that had gathered in each eye. Garlick took her arm and gently forced her back into the chair. Varlo pressed the tips of fingers of both hands on her flushed forehead. "But who's the head of it all—this Velvet Gang, as the police call it?" Garlick exaggerated a bit for effect. Varlo looked up quickly, a frightened stare on her face. But she said nothing. "I don't want to drag all you foolish young folks into anything. I want to keep you out of it. I'm not half so much interested even in catching these bootlegging profiteers higher up as I am in getting you out of your foolishness—clean." "I'm sick of it all. So are Glenn and Ruth—only they're too proud to admit it. Someone must make the break. I felt that I would—swallow my pride, Guy."

Garlick had figured on betrayal by surprise. He in turn was not surprised at the naive stare in return nor by the firm silence. He had seen too many women on the witness stand. Varlo had made up her mind to talk—but not too much. He decided it was best to let it go at that; not to try any social third degree. She would come around. They agreed not for the present to be seen together.

It was not three minutes later when Dick received another shock. Mrs. Walden had hastened to pour out the news of the Binnacle episode, as far as she knew it, to Garlick. "I'm going to call up Ruth on the house phone," exclaimed Dick violently as he and Garlick paced down the porch alone. "No—don't. It won't do a bit of good. You'll do harm in your present mood. Don't be so worried over Ruth, Dick. Take it from me. She'll come out all right. I think that little girl knows very well what she is doing."

"She does—eh? The deuce she does?"

Garlick was not disposed to argue. "This thing has gone just about far enough, Dick," he considered energetically. "Now is the moment to act in earnest. Take these robberies, first. Why . . . and by whom? Whatever her foolishness and love of adventure, Ruth just simply could not have been concerned in them. Now, start at the beginning. There's that girl's hat used in the Gerard robbery, the one I've got in the Club safe. Whose is that? I know what you're going to say. Rae Larue's. Maybe. But can you prove it? And if you can, that's a long way from connecting her with the hold-up."

"That devil, Jack Curtis!" ground out Dick. "They're two of a kind. I'll bet if we could raid his room at the hotel, we'd get something—maybe a picture of Rae—with the hat I think that was his camera after all that you pinched."

Garlick swung on his heel. "Curtis. Just what I was thinking. Let's jump over there — get him right quick."

At the hotel they learned that Curtis had cleaned out everything that forenoon, had checked out, and had disappeared.

Over the telephone Garlick called the Page place. Beth was not at home but her mother, with considerable relief, replied: "Miss Larue? Miss Larue left rather hurriedly for the city this afternoon. I believe she expects her mother from the coast."

Garlick was not disposed to argue. "This thing has gone just about far enough, Dick," he considered energetically. "Now is the moment to act in earnest. Take these robberies, first. Why . . . and by whom? Whatever her foolishness and love of adventure, Ruth just simply could not have been concerned in them. Now, start at the beginning. There's that girl's hat used in the Gerard robbery, the one I've got in the Club safe. Whose is that? I know what you're going to say. Rae Larue's. Maybe. But can you prove it? And if you can, that's a long way from connecting her with the hold-up."

"That devil, Jack Curtis!" ground out Dick. "They're two of a kind. I'll bet if we could raid his room at the hotel, we'd get something—maybe a picture of Rae—with the hat I think that was his camera after all that you pinched."

Garlick swung on his heel. "Curtis. Just what I was thinking. Let's jump over there — get him right quick."

At the hotel they learned that Curtis had cleaned out everything that forenoon, had checked out, and had disappeared.

Over the telephone Garlick called the Page place. Beth was not at home but her mother, with considerable relief, replied: "Miss Larue? Miss Larue left rather hurriedly for the city this afternoon. I believe she expects her mother from the coast."

Garlick pulled the little girl's shoulder. Varlo smiled up at him gratefully and with confidence. "Whose was that gruff voice, a man, that I heard this morning over the dictograph in the Pink Room? Broke?"

Garlick had figured on betrayal by surprise. He in turn was not surprised at the naive stare in return nor by the firm silence. He had seen too many women on the witness stand. Varlo had made up her mind to talk—but not too much. He decided it was best to let it go at that; not to try any social third degree. She would come around. They agreed not for the present to be seen together.

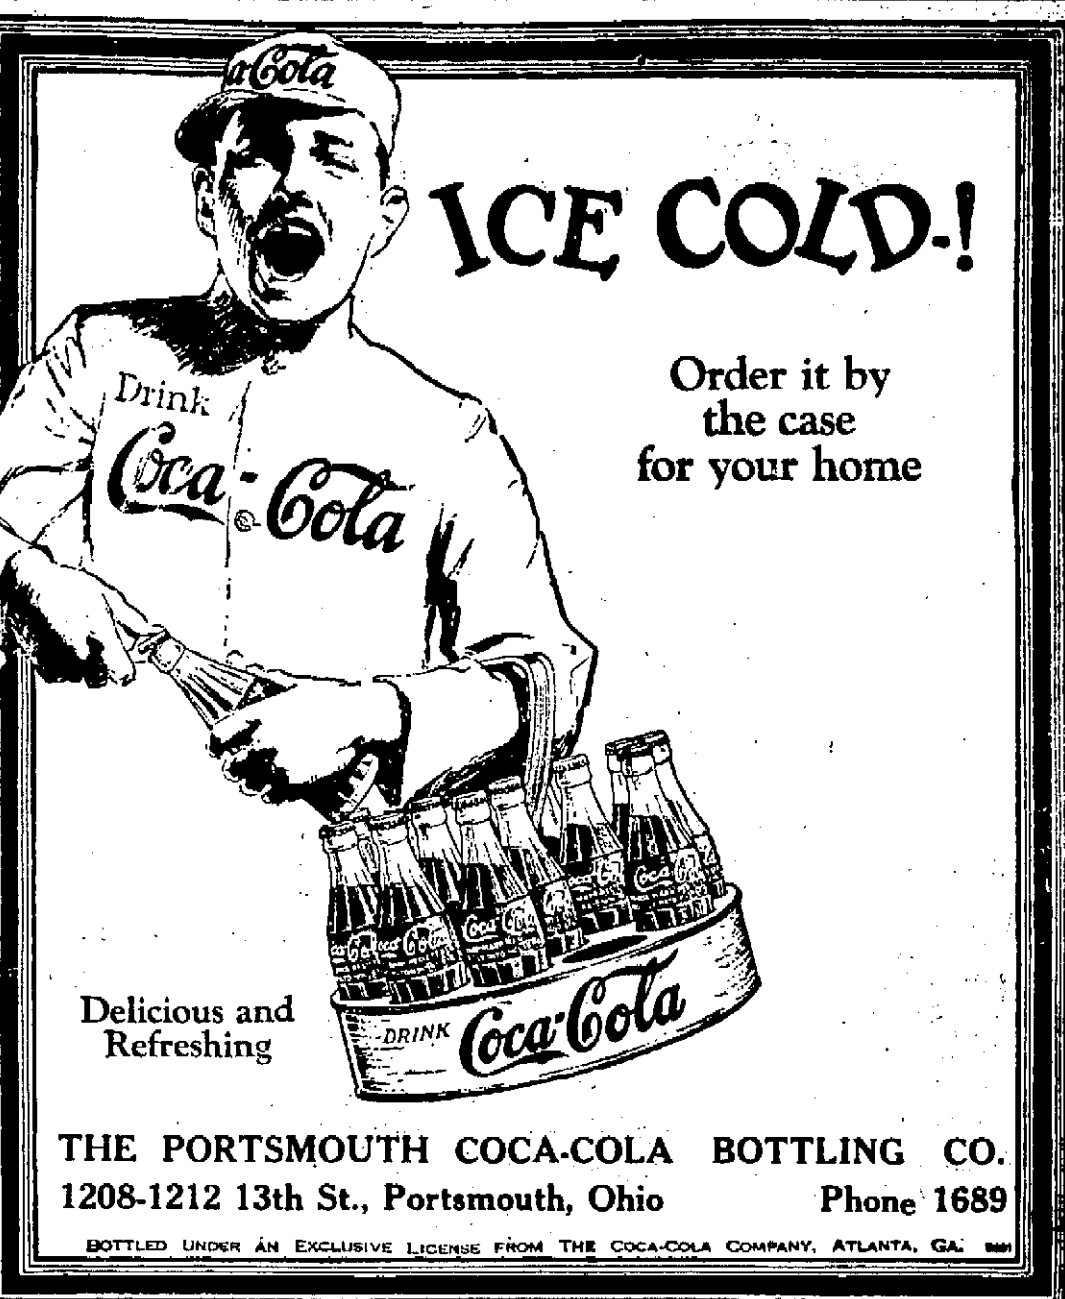

It was not three minutes later when Dick received another shock. Mrs. Walden had hastened to pour out the news of the Binnacle episode, as far as she knew it, to Garlick. "I'm going to call up Ruth on the house phone," exclaimed Dick violently as he and Garlick paced down the porch alone. "No—don't. It won't do a bit of good. You'll do harm in your present mood. Don't be so worried over Ruth, Dick. Take it from me. She'll come out all right. I think that little girl knows very well what she is doing."

Garlick was not disposed to argue. "This thing has gone just about far enough, Dick," he considered energetically. "Now is the moment to act in earnest. Take these robberies, first. Why . . . and by whom? Whatever her foolishness and love of adventure, Ruth just simply could not have been concerned in them. Now, start at the beginning. under the board's supervision, for use, however, only beyond the jurisdictional coastal line.

"The prior chairman (of the board) had issued orders that the Palmer opinion must be respected," Mr. Lasker said, "but it is true that in fact during the Wilson administration insofar as the shipping board operated, passenger ships liquor was served."

"Practical Side of Question"

"Having thus disposed of your contention that we are breaking the law, let me refer to the practical side of what is involved.

"There is a vital bill pending before congress now providing aid for American shipping, which if enacted into law, stamps the belief of America (as expressed through its legislative body) that we have reached that point in our national life where an established merchant marine is essential for our prosperity in times of peace and our protection in times of war.

Honors Americans

"No type of ship is so essential for either of these major purposes as the fast passenger and combination passenger and cargo ships. Of this type

we have just received from my father, August A. Busch, president of the Anheuser-Busch, Inc., written on board the United States steamship George Washington. Kindly note that he expresses astonishment that the prohibition laws of the United States are violated openly upon steamships owned by the United States and flying the United States flag. A copy of the wine list enumerating intoxicating liquors of every character is inclosed for your information.

"Ships American Territory"

"Because it is axiomatic that American ships wherever they float are American territory and under the jurisdiction of the laws of the United States, the government's liquor policy with respect to the ships of the United States shipping board constitutes a violation of the constitution and the Volstead act in at least three important respects:

"As American sovereignty follows the flag, it is a violation of the constitution and the enforcement act for the government to sell intoxicating liquors or permit their sale on board any ship of the United States anywhere in the world.

"It is a violation of the constitution and the law for the government ships to transport intoxicating liquors within the three mile coast line.

"We are reliably informed that the advertisement of the United States lines published in European newspapers announced 'choice wines and liquors' on ships of the United States.

"We are also reliably informed that during all the time that the government has been violating the prohibition laws it has had public figures touring the country for the special purpose of preaching respect for the prohibition laws to the American people.

"Government's Conduct Not Consistent"

"We are inclosing what appears to be a government inspired newspaper editorial making a plea for the continued violation of the prohibition laws on board United States ships. We had authoritative information the day before this editorial was published that it was to appear the following day.

"The government's disregard of the prohibition law and its policy of inspiring editorial support of the exemption of one of its business enterprises from the operation of the law on the one hand, and its feeble attempt to enforce it and the employment of skilled orators to counsel respect for the law on the other hand appears to be most inconsistent.

Requests Congressional Probe

The letter of the Anheuser-Busch Inc., to members of congress, inviting their attention to the wine lists of the shipping board steamers, requests a congressional inquiry into the conditions regarding the enforcement of the prohibition act. The letter says in part:

"We have repeatedly brought to the notice of the congress of the United States and the administrative officials the fact that the prohibition law is so loosely enforced as to invite its violation and that under these conditions the manufacturers of lawful products are being driven out of business.

"Hypocrisy Unparalleled," Charged

"When the government of the United States permits one of its departments to violate the prohibition law on the most extensive scale in the world, it helps create a condition which aggravates the difficulties of those manufacturers who have spent millions of dollars to convert their properties for the production of lawful products and who, as a matter of good citizenship, have obeyed the law."

The letter further says that the government in violating its own law sets an example of "hypocrisy," unparalleled in the history of the republic.

Attack On Shipping Board Made In The House

WASHINGTON, June 14—Attack on the shipping board for permitting the sale of liquor on American ships was made in the House today by Representative Gollivan, Democrat, Massachusetts.

Holding up what he said was a wine list from the steamship President Pierce, paid for by federal appropriation, Mr. Gollivan declared that under the Volstead law "we cannot get drunk on land but we can on sea."

There was a row from members as the Massachusetts representative read from the list to show that American wine whiskey could be bought aboard ship at 20 cents a drink, "and Jamaica rum—think of it—for two bits."

Officials of the shipping board, when their attention was called to Mr. Gollivan's charges, declined to comment at this time.

"Laugh At Volstead" Declaring that the tolling millions were deprived of the comforts of life, Mr. Gollivan charged that the wealthy still laughed at the Volstead law and the "rich and leisurely tourist finds it a negation and a farce on the ships that sail the seas under the American flag."

Its open violation on the ships of the United States Shipping Board, he said, "makes one laugh when he reads so much about law and order now that the 18th amendment has been adopted. Here and now I desire to call attention and to emphasize the bare faced hypocrisy of a government appropriating money to enforce this child prohibition and at the same time appropriating more money to advertise the violation of its own laws on its own ships the minute they get outside the three mile limit. I hold in my hand the list of one of Mr. Lasker's sailing delights. It was formerly known as the steamship Peninsula State and now bears the name of one of our former Presidents—President Pierce."

"Right Off Bar: Oh, Boy" Swinging his arms, Mr. Gollivan had the House in a whirl of laughter as he ran through the list of wines intersecting sharp comment after reading the price of the old time drinks.

"Black and White, Johnny Walker, Haig and Haig, right there off the bar at 25 cents a drink and in the bottle too. Oh, Boy," he shouted.

With seriousness, however, he declared that the morals of the American people had been lowered by the law with the demand for its enforcement on land and its "open violation on the water."

against American ships which has been seized upon by the liquor interests as an argument against prohibition, need no longer exist."

Haynes Says He'll Do His Duty When He Knows What to Do

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Prohibition Commissioner Haynes declared today in a formal statement referring to the "prohibition afloat" pamphlet issued by the Anheuser-Busch Company that he would "act in a vigorous manner to enforce the law" as soon as the department of justice and the courts have determined whether the Volstead act applies to vessels sailing under the American flag. He added that he would not break one law to enforce another.

"There has been a difference of opinion as to whether the Volstead act applies on ships sailing our flag outside the three mile zone," he said, "just as soon as the question is determined by the department of justice or the courts, I will act in a vigorous manner to enforce the law, but I will not break one order in order to enforce another."

Mr. Haynes declared that he had made every effort to direct the prohibition forces in conformity with the law, but asserted he would not "attempt to usurp any of the prerogatives that belong under our constitution, to the other departments of the government."

Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair declared that the question of the sale of liquor on American ships had never been referred to him for decision.

A treasury decision was issued by former Internal Revenue Commissioner Williams, December 17, 1920, containing an opinion by the then Acting Attorney General William L. Frieron, which stated:

"The eighteenth amendment empowers congress to enact laws applicable wherever the jurisdiction of the United States exists. The national prohibition act is a law of such general application. I can not doubt, therefore, that it applies to those on the board American ships whether in American waters, on the high seas, or in foreign waters equally with those in any of the states of the United States."

"He (Purpera) lied against me."

Benigno stood trial three times. Juries in the first two disagreed.

"As manufacturers of legal products, we have been forced for more than two years to meet unfair and unlawful competition in practically every town and city in the United States. For the United States to set aside its constitution and laws in the operation of its own business enterprises, increases our difficulties many fold, because it encourages violators of the law to renewed and greater activity."

"I understand that the shipping board has brought to the notice of high officials of the government the fact that it could not compete on the high seas with the ships of other nations and obey the constitution and the Volstead act. And either by direct or indirect means, the shipping board is permitted to do in the dark that which it is illegal to do—in order that it may make money."

Violation of Volstead Act

"We should submit to the president that the government's toleration of the violation of the law by the shipping board is proof that prohibition laws as now written are either impractical and non-enforceable, or are being disregarded deliberately."

"The fact that citizens of the United States would not buy passage upon ships of the United States so long as the Volstead act was operative upon these ships, gives us a real sentiment of a considerable part of the American people with respect to prohibition, and we believe that a grant majority desire a modification of the Volstead act."

The letter of Adolphus Busch 111, which accompanied the letter of his father to the president, written from St. Louis under date of June 8, says in part:

Value Of River In Transportation Way Emphasized At The Exchange Club Meeting By Carmi Thompson

What might very aptly be termed a "candidates meeting" was enjoyed by the members of the Exchange Club of Portsmouth last evening when the Hon. Carmi A. Thompson, Republican candidate for governor, made the principal address of the evening. The meeting was presided over by Vice President Russell K. McCurdy. In the absence of Mr. McCurdy, the president, Mr. McCurdy is a candidate for prosecuting attorney of this county. Mr. Tom A. Jenkins, of Ironton, candidate for state senator, was also a guest and likewise made a very pleasing talk to the Exchangeites.

"That the Ohio river will be the means of solving the transportation problem which will be confronting this country when business is running its full capacity," is the opinion of Colonel Thompson. He told the members of the Exchange that because the Ohio river is the only waterway of any great magnitude traveling east and west in the United States, it indicates that when developed it will be one of the most important modes of transportation.

"The railroads are near the edge of their terminals now," said Colonel Thompson. "That means that other means of transportation must be developed."

"We have two means left, highway and water. That water transportation is by far the most economical is an undisputed fact."

Mr. Thompson then recited the fact that this same Ohio river valley was the place in which the pioneers settled when they came over the Appalachian mountains. He told the story of Rufus Putnam's settlement of Marietta, and thence of the pioneer's coming down the river and finally of the founding of Portsmouth and Ironton.

Thompson pointed out that civilization from its very beginning depended upon transportation and that our development depends entirely upon the advancement of means of travel.

"The railroad development as well as the uncertainty of the Ohio river's rise and fall were responsible for the retarding of the Ohio river traffic," said Thompson.

"However, the locking and damming of this great waterway is a step towards progress in the right direction."

Thompson, whose early life was spent in the neighboring county of Lawrence, in and about the city of Ironton, told his audience that if elected governor, he will see to it that the state of Ohio will be run as a great business organization working for economy and efficiency.

"I will inject fundamental principles of successful business in governmental affairs."

"The Dunn reorganization bill was clearly a step in the right direction. This bill recognizes the principles of co-operation in conducting the multitudinous interests of the state."

"The trouble with modern government is that it is overorganized. Public officials must bear in mind they are spending the people's money and for this reason economy is essential in conducting the affairs of the people."

"When there is any duplication found, whether it be by bureau, individual or otherwise, it must be eliminated."

Colonel Thompson urged the business men to take more active interest in their government. To study the details of government and by all means to take an interest all the year around.

"Go to vote at the primaries,

COL. THOMPSON'S VISIT RECALLS HOW ONE PORTSMOUTH BOY GOT A START

Colonel Carmi A. Thompson's visit to Portsmouth recalls an incident of fifteen years ago. At that time the late Philo Clark, then Republican leader came to Thompson, newly elected Secretary of State and asked that he appoint a well known, as well as able accountant to a position in his office.

When Thompson did not have a place for this particular applicant, Col. Thompson went to the then state auditor Guilbert and offered to place two men in his department in order to have this accountant placed in the auditor's department.

That man made good. So good that he is now first assistant supervisor of banks of the State of Ohio.

That man is none other than our own fellow townsman George Walters.

According to Col. Thompson, the Cleveland bankers insist that he remain in Cleveland most of the time.

whether you be Republican or Democrat. Choose your candidates yourself. Familiarize yourself with the records of all the candidates and take the interest in your governmental affairs that you should, for after all, it is your government."

At the close of Col. Thompson's address, Mr. Jenkins gave a short talk that likewise made a big hit with the Exchangeites. He said he was not asking for the votes of the members but he did want their friendship, and just as they were among the young business men of Portsmouth, he hoped to be among the young business men of his community.

He paid a fine compliment to Col. Thompson, who, he said, had been one of the inspirations of his life, characterizing him as a man who had forged ahead solely through his own efforts and had made a success of life in every way.

The arena will be of wood and will seat 20,000 fans.

Has Real Memory

An interesting feature of the Exchange Club program last night was a demonstration of remembering names and faces given by Felix Renick of the National Memory Institute of New York. During the dinner the members and guests present were pointed out to Mr. Renick and at the conclusion of the program he arose and correctly called by name every person in the room. He explained his ability to do this by the use of a method of visualizing the name and associating it with the face.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain
How To Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try taking aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of Magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. Advertisement.

"Incubator" Must Go

The famous "Incubator" situated on Robinson avenue must go. The Service Department has issued an edict that this noted place is nothing short of a common nuisance and must be vacated by the score or more families at once. W. E. Tripp, owner of the building, has joined with city officials in their clean-up campaign by giving the occupants of the property notice to get out.

and failure to comply they will be evicted. Mr. Tripp stated that he had realized little or no income from the investment and declared that he either would improve the property or remove it entirely, replacing it with good buildings. The definite action makes it appear that the "Incubator" is doomed to pass into history.

COL. THOMPSON IN ADAMS COUNTY

Colonel Carmi A. Thompson, Republican candidate for governor, left the city early Wednesday for Manchester and West Union, after putting in two busy days here in the interest of his candidacy. He will spend the remainder of the week in Southern Ohio campaigning in Adams, Brown and Clermont counties.

Besides speaking at the Exchange Club meeting yesterday the candidate called on many old friends during the day and last night Col. Thompson was tendered a reception at the Washington hotel mezzanine by the General George A. Garrettsen Camp No. 4, of Cleveland, which was attended by more than 750 United Spanish War Veterans and their ladies. The reception was in charge of a committee composed of H. C. Van de Velt, commander of Garrettsen camp, Ralph Carroll and A. F. Ruppnow, past commander. Music for the occasion was furnished by the S. and S. O. Home band of Xenia.

Before leaving the city Col. Thompson expressed delight over the cordial reception extended on every hand during his stay in the city.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 14.—Rally and oil featured. The market opened with a rally of prices in the stock market at the opening of today's session. New York Central, Canada Pacific and Lake Erie and Western preferred rose 1 to 2 points and similar gains were scored by Standard Oil of N. J. and Sinclair. Other strong issues embraced Davison Chemical, Utah Copper, Central Leather, Consolidated Gas, Cuba Cane pfd, Gulf States Steel, Mack Truck, Studebaker and Westinghouse. Mexican government four and five percent bonds were buoyant on the better outlook for the adjustment of that country's external debt, rising 4 1/2 to 5 points in the early dealings.

The market moved steadily forward during the morning on a moderate volume of business. Oils and rails remained the dominant issues, a majority of those shares scoring further gains. Aside from Republic Iron and Nova Scotia Steel, the independent issues of that description continued strong. Motors and their subsidiaries as well as sugars, shipbuilding, textiles and leather were in demand at 1 to 2 points gain. General Electric was conspicuous among the equipment-advancing 3 1/2 points and copper hardened on further reports of foreign buying. Call money opened at 3 per cent, despite the heavy withdrawals of deposits from local banks to meet federal interest requirements.

Further material recoveries from Monday's sharp break featured today's bread stock market, despite heavy profit taking and firmer money tendencies. Sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

The closing was strong.

THE MOVIES

DUSTIN FARNUM
in
STRANGE IDOLS

Dustin Farnum, the Popular Fox Star, Comes to the Eastland Theatre for Three Days, Starting Tomorrow, in His Latest Picture, "Strange Idols," a Story of the Northwest—Also Century Comedy With Lee Moran.

Announcement is made by the Eastland Theatre that the popular Dustin Farnum, now a Fox star, is to open at that house tomorrow, in his latest photoplay, "Strange Idols." The play, written by Jules Furthman, concerns the romance of a wealthy lumberman of the Northwest and a famous dancer in a Broadway cabaret. It is the story of an unfortunate love match, with its heartburnings and ultimate reunion. The scenic effects include the white light activities of New York and the shadowed depths of the primitive forest in the Northwest.

Doris Dawn, a very winsome actress, is Farnum's leading woman in this picture, which was directed by Bernard Durning. Dustin Farnum's great popularity should insure him a hearty welcome at the Eastland Theatre.

Surprises For Antis In Irish Note Expected

DUBLIN, June 14.—(By the A. P.)—Leaders of the pro-treaty party, manifest increasing confidence in the outcome of Friday's parliamentary elections and predict some surprises for the antis, claiming among other things that Erskine Childers and Mary MacSwiney are certain to lose their seats.

Many complaints of intimidation in districts where independent candidates are standing for election, are being circulated. The farmers' union continues to protest at interference with its candidates, especially in Tipperary, Waterford and Kilkenny and has appealed to the provisional government for protection.

The raid on Darrell Figgis' whiskers, notwithstanding the comic side of the incident, has excited great indignation and it is maintained that this alone will suffice to bring many of his political opponents to his side and thus secure his election.

Mr. Figgis' admission to the treaty marked him for especial hostility and his friends only lately had advised him to shave clean so as to avert a possible outrage, but he scorned to comply with their suggestion. Even now he will not be compelled to resort to the razor, as enough of his beard was left after the raid for a barber to trip into symmetry.

Golden Opportunities Await You At The J. H. Brant Auction Sale June 22

We want to impress you very strongly with the fact that you cannot afford to miss the golden opportunity and chance of a life time to secure property in this WONDERFUL VALLEY, HISTORICAL FROM DIFFERENT STANDPOINTS. The permanent improvement that has been made along this valley in the last five years, in the way of fine roads and agricultural advancement are pointers and safe-guards to the purchaser. More indisputable evidence that the Scioto Valley and the J. H. Brant farm are profitable investments. The J. H. Brant farm, subdivided as it is at the present into summer homes, trucking farms, fishing camps, larger farms, or any way the purchaser may desire it, is not like a city laid out in walks and squares on paper and in reality alligator swamps and frog ponds. The Scioto Valley and the J. H. Brant farm is not A WILLO-WISP, LURING HER VICTIMS INTO THE QUAGMIRE, NOR A SHINING BUBBLE ON THE SURFACE OF THE STREAM ENTICING HER devotees to make the fatal plunge. She is real, tangible, permanent, and made up of material that you can afford to invest your dollars in. The Scioto Valley having passed through her early and pioneer days is now sailing upon a smooth sea with brilliant financiers at the helm steering for the gold of their ambition having passed through her babyhood period. We herewith are submitting a sketch in regard to the historical part and about the pre-historical people known as the mound builders. We have already said and repeat again that we are wholly incapable of giving much light upon the real historical part and history of the mound builders, but we see the valley. We see the soil. We see the waving fields of wheat, alfalfa, and grass. We know it is there and it is the pier of any country that we know of. The following is the sketch referred to above:

The Great Scioto Valley, which is now known in the Natural History of the United States as one of the greatest historical spots on the continent, was originally populated with a dense population of unknown pre-historic people, known as the Mound Builders, and as the remains of their ancient works voluminously testify thousands of people were engaged for a long period of years in the construction of these vast works of both military and religious construction.

Naturally one will ponder over why these primitive people should have selected this magnificent locality for the development of these vast works.

The answer you readily will see is the fertility of the soil, the unsurpassed scenery, the bountiful supply of water, sustaining the lives of vast herds of elk, deer and other food animals, which sustained themselves upon the luscious grasses growing in the valley and on the hills. Bountiful nature so equipped this country that vast hordes of pre-historic people obtained their sustenance and livelihood there from. The beautiful Scioto River furnished these people with an abundance of fish, which were highly prized as an article of food, as is evidenced by the crude carvings and remains of their bones, which testifies as to the charming beatitudes of this highly favored region.

Now at the present time, the white man has discovered this charming locality, and has developed vast acres of the most fertile land in the great Commonwealth of Ohio. A failure of crops is practically unknown in this favored valley and as a place for obtaining wealth and recreation and at the same time enjoy all the pleasures which are derived from the fruits of civilized labor, no more inviting spot could be found in this country than that of the Scioto Valley.

A small tract of land properly tended and cared for will not only produce a good living, but competence for any of the farmers who will judiciously and industriously care for such a place. Those that are seeking recreation and pleasure will readily find it by the location of a summer home on the banks of the beautiful Scioto, where anyone that is given over to the sport of fishing and is a true disciple of Isaac Walton can gratify his utmost desire.

A summer home located among the shady trees on the banks of this river will afford the owner thereof untold pleasure and gratification, and at the same time will appeal to his sagacity as a business man, such a location will naturally appeal to anyone who is tired and worn with the trials of a busy life, where he can retire to his country seat and there rest and enjoy the fruits of his labor undisturbed by the noise and jostle of the busy centers of commercial life. The location is truly Elysian in its true aspect in so far as life, health, wealth and happiness is concerned.

There will be a lunch dinner served at the J. H. Brant farm sale June 22, The Ladies' Aid Society of The M. E. Church of Lucasville will prepare this lunch, Mrs. Elizabeth Mackoy, President. They will serve weiners, sandwiches, coffee, pies, ice cream, refreshing lemonade and pop. We hope to see this dinner a great success, as it is for a noble cause. Everybody is invited to this great sale. The ladies are especially invited. We want to especially call the attention of anyone that may be interested in a part of the J. H. Brant farm that is now subdivided into summer homes, trucking farms, and fishing camps. There will be a man on the farm with a blue print showing the subdivision who will explain and show any inquiring party all about this subdivision. It is very necessary for those interested to come and see for themselves before the day of sale. There will also be a blue print left at the First National Bank of Portsmouth. For further information call 2744 or the office of The Southwest Land Company, E. C. Akers, Manager. Terms of this important sale will be as heretofore stated one third cash on the day of the sale, balance divided into three equal payments of one, two and three years, secured by mortgage on the property.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Persons who saw Jack Malone defeat Bryan Downey in their ten-round bout at Aurora last night are wondering today just why the lights went out at the start of the ninth round and whether a page was taken out of ancient sport history as a means of giving Downey a rest when he was in a bad way or whether it was just a natural failure of the electrical current.

Downey had started off with a rush, knocking down Malone in the first round, but from then on Jack had things his own way. In the eighth round Malone had cut Downey's nose and the Cleveland battler seemed wobbly. The crowd yelled to Jack to finish him in the next round and Downey's seconds worked feverishly over their fighter. Then as the ninth was about to start with Downey seemingly groggy and Malone ready to rush in—the lights went out. During the three minutes they were out, Downey's seconds worked vigorously and had him ready when the lights came on again.

Mr. Bannon Killed Cinnamon Bear

Refreshed by a delightful big game hunt in British Columbia, Attorney Henry T. Bannon arrived home last night tired, but happy. He was accompanied by Mrs. Bannon and they thoroughly enjoyed their long trip.

Mr. Bannon who has made several trips to British Columbia in quest of big game, killed a cinnamon bear on this trip. He brought him down with one bullet and Mr. Bannon says the animal was a fine specimen of the bear family.

"We struck ideal hunting weather and enjoyed every day of our 50 day hunt," Mr. Bannon said today as he rolled up his sleeves preparatory to plunging into a sea of accumulated mail that awaited his arrival.

Bible School Boys Swim

With an attendance of ninety, the Daily Vacation Bible School of the First Presbyterian church held a rousing session this morning at the church.

With no one admitted above twelve years of age, the attendance is beyond expectations by far, and with enthusiasm high is expected to go higher. For the first time in years the boys have daily outnumbered the girls—this is a remarkable feature for a vacation school.

The purpose of the school is a solid one of religious education—which the church is now emphasizing more and more. With a capable corps of teachers this purpose is being pushed the limit, and for an hour and a half every morning the school program is built on religious education. With that time over, comes recreation, sports, sewing, manual training stunts and the like.

This morning, forty strong, the boys at ten-thirty moved to the auditorium for a grand swim, featuring a good soap shower, they lined the edge of the pool and hit her all at once, amid yells of pure boyish delight, as only a boy of twelve can give, and only a swimming hole calls forth. For an hour the merry sport went on — and it was a treat to witness their fun. The boys also received some first class coaching in swimming. At noon all biked for home, ready to call it a day — and look forward to a ball game tomorrow.

"Diana Of The Dunes" Fatally Wounded In Fight

CHICAGO, June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Miss Alice Gray Wilson, University of Chicago graduate, known as "Diana of the Dunes" after she became a beach dweller on the Indiana shore of Lake Michigan several years ago, was perhaps fatally wounded early today in a fight which authorities say they believe may have been a development of the recent Dunes death mystery.

Her husband, Paul Wilson, was shot in the foot.

Engene Frank, a boat man, who is said to have fractured the woman's skull by a blow with a pistol after shooting Wilson, was arrested.

Authorities say they were unable to gain much information, except that there had been ill feeling among beach dwellers for some time.

he will be director of all athletics at the new high school. He will have full charge of the gymnasium and athletic squads and if Ironton is not heard from this year it will not be because the pupils are lacking facilities and supervision, as "Shorty" is one of Ironton's greatest athletes in all branches of sport.

La Follette Charges Courts Have Wrested Sovereignty From People Of The Nation

CINCINNATI, O., June 14.—(By the Associated Press)—Asserting that by "a process of gradual encroachments," the federal courts of the country have "wrested sovereignty from the people," Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, in an address today before the American Federation of Labor convention proposed an amendment to the constitution denying the power of lower courts to set aside a federal law as unconstitutional and providing for the nullification of any such decision by the supreme court by re-enactment of the statute.

Citing the recent decision of the supreme court holding unconstitutional the child labor law as typical of the conduct of the federal judiciary and particularly the supreme court whenever congress has sought to enact progressive and human legislation which was "offensive to great financial interests," Senator La Follette declared the supreme tribunal of the country "was today the actual ruler of the American people."

"The law is what they say it is," the Wisconsin senator continued, "and not what the people through congress enact. Even the constitution of the United States is not what its plain terms declare, but what these nine men construe it to be. In fact, five of these nine men are actually the supreme rulers, for by a bare majority, the court has repeatedly overruled the will of the people."

"The nine lawyers who constitute the supreme court are placed in positions of power for life, not by the votes of the people but by the presidential appointment. Ex-President Taft was made chief justice by President Harding. Thus a man was invested with the enormous prestige and influence of chief justice by presidential appointment, who had been repudiated by the voters of the United States on his record. No one will contend that he could have been elected chief justice by the vote of the people. And yet Chief Justice Taft wrote the opinion that annulled the child labor law; he wrote the opinion in the Coronado coal case. In making this observation I level no criticism at the personnel of the court. I am not concerned with personalities. I am dealing with fundamentals."

"It can not be denied that we are ruled by a judicial oligarchy," the senator asserted, adding that while many of the minor federal judges, "sharing the sovereign power" of the supreme court, were "excellent and enlightened men, some of them, notably Judge Anderson, of Indiana, and Judge McIntire, of West Virginia, have in my opinion shown themselves to be petty tyrants and arrogant despots."

"The time has come when we must put the ax to the root of this monstrous growth upon the body of our government. The usurped power of the federal courts must be taken away and the federal judges must be made responsible to the popular will."

Keyser's Home Run Spells Defeat For The Shoeworkers

Team	W	L	Pct

Games This Week
 Wednesday, June 14—Central Labor vs N. & W.
 Thursday, June 15—Vulcan Last vs Excelsior.
 Friday, June 16—Central Labor vs Excelsior.

Keyser's home run was the deciding factor in a hot combat at the Findlay street yard Tuesday evening when the Central Labor gang triumphed over the Excelsior outfit by the tight count of 3 to 1. Jimmy's tremendous smash which rolled to the sign board in deep left came in the sixth and Bauer, who got on by grace of Doherty's wild chuck to first, steamed in ahead of the batter. The count was tied at all one when Keyser came through with his surprising but mighty wallop which won the ball game right then and there. Jimmy also with the aid of Schweinsberg's single accounted for the first marker run up by his side when he pushed out a double in the fifth.

The contest was marked with good pitching on both sides. "Big Ollie" Lewis being pitted against "Puss" Spence and the honors were about even, the former being just a shade more effective, which together with Keyser's timely hitting gave the victory to the Herd Herd. Lewis allowed but four scattered hits and set back seven enemy batters on strikes. Spence's work was high class outside of the fatal sixth when he was not altogether to blame for the brace of runs which were worn down as two were down when the home run swirled arrived and a chance had been offered to retire the side.

There was much action during the exhibition which was reeled off in five times, lasting little more than an hour.

By the win the Toolers moved into a tie with the Lasters for first place in the league race while the defeat forced the Barber clan back towards the cellar. The score:

A black and white illustration. On the left, a hand is shown holding a small, dark, rectangular object with a handle, possibly a book or a small box. The object has some faint, illegible markings on it. To the right, there is a dark, vertical structure, possibly a bookshelf or a wall, with a small, light-colored object (possibly a book or a small box) resting on a shelf or ledge. The overall style is simple and graphic.

DISPLAY THE COLORS

In view not only of what the Stars and Stripes mean to Americans, but also in view of the practically unanimous expressions of devotion to the emblem, let it be hoped that Flag Day will be marked by a greater display of the colors. On Memorial Day house after house—sometimes a number in unbroken succession—were seen without a flag or the least display of bunting. With a special appeal for honor to the banner of the Nation itself, there should be no bare spots today to spoil the display.

For this is Flag Day, and never in the history of the Nation was it more important for Americans to display their loyalty and their devotion to American institutions than today.

More than ever the American flag is the symbol of hope for a suffering world.

Place in the hearts of all men that love of liberty and justice that dwells in the breast of every real American, give them the desire for international good will and justice and let them enjoy the privileges guaranteed us by national government and world disarmament would come as a matter of course.

The flag we honor today stands for all we revere; for all we hold dear; it is the symbol of our liberties and a sign to all the world that we desire nothing more than to live at peace with our neighbors, to deal justly with them to have them deal justly with us, and that our hope is one day to see others enjoy the blessings our free government has brought to us.

So, if you are truly American, hang out the flag today and by honoring it do honor to yourself and the country it represents.

MORE TIME FOR GERMANY

THE reparations commission has granted the request of Germany officials for a moratorium during the remainder of this year, in order that the German government may be able to put its financial house in order and be able to meet future payments on reparations. This action follows the statement of the international bankers, in conference at Paris, that Germany must comply with all the terms for reparations determined under the treaty of Versailles, and that it must be taken to deflate the national currency.

Germany agrees in view of the extension of payments by reparations commission, to put its finances on a sound basis to eliminate as far as possible the wholesale printing of money.

It is very much to the interests of Germany that the currency should begin at once and should be of the most character. Holders of the inflated currency may have been to a considerable extent in the process of deflation. It is believed that the nation will be better off eventually in its finances on a sound basis.

Germany and Russia are beginning to realize that they must maintain themselves aloof from other nations, and in charge of trade with these nations and get the money necessary to themselves economically, they must conform to the carefully fiscal policies of the leading nations.

We may be given a "breathing spell" in which to place of good faith by carrying out the financial reparation by the reparations commission and the international bankers. If this should be accomplished to a substantial guarantee given, there is reason to believe that it will be able to secure the loan that will improve the financial standing to a considerable extent.

WHEN THE FARMER SWAPS

THE farmer is pleased that the improvement in the purchasing power of his products is steady, if slow, but keeps a critical eye upon the wide, deep chasm between prices of 1914 and 1922. He takes account of the lower rates on farm products and the slightly reduced costs on farm tools, but observes that after all what he buys is more 100 per cent higher than in 1914.

He makes his comparison and complaint in this manner: In 1914, a farmer in Culbertson, Neb., could get a wagon, a plow, a corn binder and a grain binder at Moline, Ill., for 198 bushels of corn, of which 630 bushels went for the implement, the other 168 paying freight. In October, 1921, he had to turn over 4,214 bushels of corn for the same outfit, of which 1,800 bushels went for the tools and 2,414 for freight. By January, 1922, the corn needed had dropped to 3,083 bushels, of which 1,563 went for the tools and 1,520 for freight. One month later he needed only 2,384 bushels of corn, of which 1,376 went for implements and 1,008 for freight. In March, two months ago, he needed only 2,189 bushels of corn, divided 1,309 for tools and 880 for freight.

It will be noted that what the farmer could buy for 630 bushels of corn in 1914 costs now, after reductions, 1,309 bushels, or more than double the 1914 value on which the farmer rests with his products. This is a gap that must be closed in some manner before stability can be expected. In practice the farmer's dollar contains about 48 cents.

A sub-committee of the senate appears to regard the anti-lynching bill passed by the house as more unconstitutional than lynching.

Max Oser says he does not want to marry Mathilde for her money. Still, if he has to take it with the girl he probably will not call the wedding off.

A divorce granted on the ground of "mental cruelty" is as good as any other kind, probably. The object in most cases is to get by with it.

THE BIBLE IN PICTURES AND TEXT

By HELEN E. OHRENSCHALL

BALAK AND BALAAM

THE children of Israel journeyed to Moab; Balak the king thought they had come to make war and sent messengers for Balaam (who said he had power with God), promising him riches if he would curse these people. Balaam saddled his ass and started. God was angry and sent His angel to stand in his way. The ass saw the angel and turned aside; this provoked Balaam; he smote the ass several times. God made the ass speak; Balaam saw the angel and bowed low, knowing he had sinned. The angel commanded him to go and speak certain things to the king.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. G. MANTYRE

NEW YORK, June 14—A midnight ride on a roaring subway express from Brooklyn Bridge to the far-flung Bronx, reveals row upon row of festal, shiftless and stoical types of people not seen by day.

The subway provides its huskiest guards, fellows with hanging jaws and bulky shoulders, to take care of the midnight crowd. A flapper in white shoes sits knitting, unmindful of the lurching car. At Fourteenth street a friend Julius here.

"What's all the scandal in your troupe, dearie?"

"Nuthin', much," is the reply. "Capt Bob's off the needle. Gawd, what a total loss he turned out to be. Once playing leads—now an extra for Griffith."

Giuseppe with his gaunt, grimy hands and red shirt, flaring at the throat holds a little garden spade and rake. He is undisturbed by the demoniacal screech of grinding steel upon steel. He dreams contentedly of the tiny garden in the tenement back yard.

A crooning negro, fragrant with fumes of water front air, warms up a pair of dice with rubbing hands. It is a certainty he will get off in Harlem. A haggard old woman quarrels with the guard in strident voice. Her teeth are stained black and wisps of matted hair hang over her sunken eyes. And her nails are long and claw-like.

Pale-faced men with expressionless eyes of a fish; their coat collars turned up winter and summer. They are the market stall barkers and are on the job before dawn. Night watches with pockets bulging from clippings and note-books and stamped with the enduring shyness of chronic loneliness.

Times Square brings its flood of sleek, closely shaven men in gaudy clothes. Each studies and pencil marks a racing form to be ready for the next day's high adventure. An odd collection of humankind—oppressively sophisticated, mannerless and hard.

One of New York's editorial writers decided that he wanted success from the grueling grind of fast metropolitan existence. He rented an abandoned farm 60 miles from the city. He wanted to study the wild creatures and get close to nature. After two weeks—by gawd it up. It seems that a moth-eaten deer slept in his hen-house every night. And he couldn't keep his shaggy little white dog from frightening the wits out of the hired man.

Fred Detweiler, the landscape painter, journeyed with a fellow artist into the scenic beauty of the Adirondacks recently to do some landscapes. One day while they were at work they happened to stray to a certain peak to view some bit of nature. A stray cow ambled up to the canvas and licked off all the paint. The artists departed immediately, fearing that they would have to pay for the loss of a poisoned cow. A few days later they read in a New York newspaper a dispatch from a small village in the Adirondacks stating that the country-side was excited over a cow that had been giving forth red and green milk.

This is the definition of golf given by one of the few of New York's golf athletes: Golf is an effort to put a small ball in a small hole with instruments ill-designed for the purpose.

Street sweepers were washing the asphalt roadway in front of the Grand Central Station around midnight. A stray cat was accidentally washed into the sewer. Three sweepers quit work and rescued it. And the crowd collected $10 for each of them.

"No, just a few trivial scandals."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Morning or Evening, Sir?

Train Boy—Where on the map is Pickwick, Bill?
Brakeman—Sounds as if it might be somewhere in the hinterland, kid. Why?

"Some people are always trying to boost their native town. An old-fashioned hick asked me if I had the Pickwick papers."—from Judge.

By Request

When the band had finished playing, a tired-looking diner beckoned to the conductor.

"Do you play anything by request?" he asked.

"Certainly!" replied the conductor. "Well, then," retorted the diner, "for the love of Mike, go and play solitaire until I have finished my dinner."

Cool Agriculture

Newedd—"I'm afraid we're going to find it hard to get coal."

Mrs. Newedd—"Oh, dear! I do wish they'd plant larger crops in the coal fields!"

An Old Road

There is an old road sunken in the woods. So rough with stones that it is used no more. But on the sides as they slope gently down, Here is gray moss, and there are clumps of grass.

And when spring comes, from underneath brown leaves, Creep little clusters of arbutus sweet— Pale pink and white, gleaming in waxen form Against the tangled green, half-out of sight.

The road lies sunken, covered o'er with leaves; Red turrets peep from out the moss of gray; A bee drops down, lured by the sweet perfume Of trailing loveliness along the way.

In light and shade the road has slept for years, Nor felt the touch of hoofprint or of steel. But to-day visions on it lightly tread, Moving in gliding measure with the sun.

Young Father—Jazz record nothing! What you heard was the baby crying when the dog discovered a strange cat under the bed.

Lucky for William

"There were no chorus girls in Shakespeare's day."
"Is that a fact?" asked Mr. Wadleigh.

"Yes. Female characters on the stage were played by boys and young men."
"Well! Well! That probably explains why Bill Shakespeare has such a big reputation. He got into the business early and made a name for himself without paying to compete with the girl-and-music industry."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Real Brotherhood

"Remarkably fine butler you have, old man."
"Isn't he! Treats us just as if we were members of his family."—Life.

The Lesser Half of The House

"Pa, what do lawyers mean by 'the party of the second part'?" asked Clarence.
"The one who is going to pay the alimony, son," replied his Dad.
